babylon you cant stop the massives no matter how hard you criticize it me say, them cant stop the crises no matter how good them advertise it you stocked, you are in a circle something wrong in the way you reign it gets hot like in a kettle the fire burning and you know the aim arise all warriors the masses cant take the pains the under estimated cries and voices shall holly and praise his name the tears shared and the pains endured arise so it sees its end the blames on the guilty ones and justice stands again

no matter how good you criticize it them cant cool the crises

tututue tututue tututue hei I heard the cry and it rose over the hills top tututue tututue tututue hei I heard the voices and it rose over the hills top so me say, full stop what goes around comes around so me pity for the wicked and the sane to every action a reaction why them wonder why them get the blame them sit on this boat teach I and I fi swim and now them wonder why the boat sink.

me see them cant stop the crises

is not a hatred for you or for them in the hidden pulling the strings them not to be mentioned but the secret, is a secret no more This is not a hatred for you you or for them being sent to manage the things
but this secret is a secret no more babylon you cant repair the damage and still you cant stop practice your tactics so something arises from your damage and now a lot a see you have your heart on wrong the place and again you prepare for more damage you down press the mouth that opens to defend his place
but babylon you cant dominate the whole earth it takes a little light for a sight in the darkness

them cant stop the crises no matter how hard them organise it
