"Your Apocalypse"

In my dreams every time your apocalypse is mine With you 'live', with you 'die'
Keep you near me for all time to last the end of days to never let you go

Draggin by, times a blur saddest song I never heard Softly played, sweet and low Here's the love I never show you cold that drifts away Never to be known

And like a Great Lake draining echoes in the space you're leaving I cant sleep at all for miles away, game on over lines and out of reach I leave what's done alone, end the day

Dragging by, times a blur
Saddest song I never heard
softly played, sweet and low There's the promises I've sold you, rolled to slip away, to coldly come undone

So when my dreams, I am sure, my apocalypse is yours so my friend, count me in If I come to you again, to drag along

And like a Great Lake draining
echoes in the space you're leaving
I cant sleep at all The road away is taking you, from me, only leave what's done alone and on the days we gave all on the traces all i keep Burning down the light of all those empathies
We end our days

some parts i couldnt quite make out, sorry **
