When I found you I knew there was a chance that,
The stars in your eyes would turn and break my heart.
So I gathered everything I had left in my world and put it in your hands to tear apart
But you loved and built a house with my love,
Meet me at the house with all my heart.
I went there, I went there and I waited,
I really really wanted you to come.

Come! Come! Come!

I do this everyday I do this daily everyday I do this
When I found you I knew there was a chance that,
The stars in your eyes would turn and break my heart.
So I gathered everything I had left in my world and put it in your hands to tear apart
But your love, would not care for my love
My love you built a wall inside your heart.
I have a hammer, a hammer to break down,
You have a hammer baby we can break down the wall

You have a hammer baby break down the wall,

I do this everyday
I do this daily everyday I do this
