"Song For Lovers"

Here's a song for lovers who don't care if they don't sleep
If dragonflies with heavy hearts cut the air like darts Here's a song for lovers who won't ever have to weep Clear-sighted eyes and uncried tears all dried out in the sun
Oooooooh Oooooooh Oooooooh Oooooooh

You were far too young, dear to get so close to the clouds
No one told you to stay away from pleasures of that kind
You were far too small to step foot outside of your house
Now you saw how dragonflies sting the heart with darts
Oooooooh Oooooooh Oooooooh Oooooooh

Here's a song for lovers who don't care if they bleed
