(Wood Newton/David Ball)

Once you were together, now you're far apart
The one who swore to love you has gone and broke your heart
Don't cry on your pillow, don't let it get you down
Put on the party dress go out and paint the town

Baby swing, baby swing
It's easy as the lullaby your momma used to sing
Once you feel that rhythm you won't worry about a thing
Just swing, swing, baby swing
There's a juke joint down the highway past the city limit
sign
Check your troubles at the door, go on and have a good time
The band can play the boogie beat so wear your dancing shoes
Let that old piano man pound away your blues

Baby swing, baby swing
It's easy as the lullaby your momma used to sing
Once you feel that rhythm you won't worry about a
thing
Just swing, swing, baby swing
There's a juke joint down the highway past the city limit
sign
Check your troubles at the door, go on and have a good
time
The band can play the boogie beat so wear your
dancing shoes
Let that old piano man pound away your blues

Baby swing, baby swing
It's easy as the lullaby your momma used to sing
Once you feel that rhythm you won't worry about a
thing
Just swing, swing, baby swing
There's a juke joint down the highway past the city limit
sign

The band can play the boogie beat so wear your
dancing shoes
Let that old piano man pound away your blues
