As the sun goes down through the trees
I feel it sink in my heart
I wonder how it came to be that we're apart

So I stare out my window
Looking for a clue
That the light will ever shine without you

Oh baby the walls are crashing in
I'm waiting for my life to begin
Losing you was such a sin
I'm waiting for the sun to shine on through
Now all the colors have faded blue
Tell me tell me what can I do?

Just can't get over losing you

Now the days are empty
Like the endless sky
As my dreams fall to pieces, I watch them die

Oh baby the walls are crashing in
I'm waiting for my life to begin
Losing you was such a sin
I'm waiting for the sun to shine on through
Now all of my colors have faded blue
Tell me tell me what can I do?
Just can't get over losing you
Losing you...
Losing you
