I'm so cruel and I'm so mean, when I'm in disguise it seems
What is it that I think I'll discover, if I run from this cover

So that you won't be wiser, I'm the emotional, emotional miser Feeling the black inside my head, and the way it makes me feel so dead

Don't look back the black is on the attack
Leaving all it touches, touches dead
That's the way it takes away the pain in my head

Will you help me find, will you help me lose my mind

Don't look back of the black is on the attack
Taking away the pain in my head till I'm dead
Funny how I do not have any feelings of dread

Live by my disguise instead, as if to prove that reality's dead Am I trying to hide a disgrace, is that why I bleed the light from this place

What is it that I think I will find, is it just another unread sign
What is it that I think I will fear, is it I'll wash away my disguise with tears

Don't look back the black is on the attack
Leaving all it touches, touches dead

That's the way it takes away the pain in my head

Don't look back of the black is on the attack
Taking away the pain in my head till I'm dead

Funny how I do not have any feelings of dread

Will you help me find, will you help me lose my mind

The cruel things that I do and say, are eating my heart and my mind a way In my head I am searching around, trying to kill what is keeping me down

The flames are burning they never tire, I don't know why my world on fire with all that has burned through me, there is only one way to be free

Don't look back the black is on the attack
Leaving all it touches, touches dead
That's the way it takes away the pain in my head

Don't look back of the black is on the attack
Taking away the pain in my head till I'm dead
Funny how I do not have any feelings of dread

Will you help me find, will you help me lose my mind
