lit it go, but you've opened the sky, let it go, everything will eventually fade, like that look in your eyes (eyes)
take it all, take every last thing, you blood sucking whore

snatch you by the collar bone and shake your fucking skeleton

try to focus on the weight of it now, when you trudge through the lies
check inside once you've opened the door because you might just be alive

way to go, my god, way to go now your saving yourself, with your selfishness, would you look in the mirror right now?

uncommon brutality
keeping whats yours

keeping whats yours, whats yours, what you own

what you own up to,
your too easy to read
refusing the truth
desperate bastard
you will suffer

look for yourself, stripped away, torn from the home, you were taken battered beyond recognition, so stop to realize hold on, look in the eyes, say your last words let it go (let it go)
