When night is falling
So hard upon you
And the world is hanging
Heavy on your heart

When your soul is stranded
And you're barely standing
I will hold you
Shield you, show you

I am standing by
And when you're lost
And think no one can find you
I will remind you
You're not alone
I will be there
I'll be the one to guide you
My love will be your compass
I will lead you home

When night has painted
Your world in shadows
And you're left feeling
Left out in the cold

When you're in the darkness
And this world feels heartless
I will see you
Hear you, reach you

I am standing by
And when you're lost
And think no one can find you
I will remind you
You're not alone
I will be there
I'll be the one to guide you
My love will be your compass
I will lead you home

When you're in the storm

And you're in the dark
Lost at sea
Grab my hand and reach for me

I am standing by
And when you're lost
And think no one can find you
I will remind you
You're not alone
I will be there
I'll be the one to guide you
My love will be your compass
I will lead you home

My love will be your compass
I will lead you home
