

Nina Gordon

"Bones And A Name"

Visit "Bones And A Name" on MotoLyrics.com

Rolling through the canyon blasting heartbreaker
I see your famous face riding next to me
We smile at each other 'cause we know we know each other
But damn if I'm going to talk to you again

I always thought that you were funny
I always thought we could be friends
But the way you treated her in the end...

All the horses and all the men
Couldn't bring her back again
We tried so hard
We couldn't save her day

All the millions and billions
Of stars that shine into her eyes
Are barely bright enough to light her way

So she covered herself with sorrow and shame
And smoke and mirrors and fame
And fake love, angry love, bad love, and sad love
And damn if I didn't almost do the same

And now sometimes I think I see her
And I can almost hear her cry
I hear those chilling words she chose to say goodbye

All the horses and all the men
Couldn't bring her back again
We tried so hard
We couldn't save her day

All the millions and billions
Of stars that shine into her eyes
Are barely bright enough to light her way

He was predictable, cliché, and cruel to you
He made it ugly, and he made it high-school
He said I love you, I need you, I want you, I'll feed you
I get you, I've got you, I'll catch you and I'll keep you

My sweet, you will never be sad again
He said my sweet, you will never be sad again

All the horses and all the men
Couldn't bring her back again
We tried so hard
We couldn't save her day

All the millions and billions
Of stars that shine into her eyes
I swear sometimes I can almost hear her say

We're just bones and a name
We all go out the way we came
So don't you try to tell me that love is all we need

Visit Nina Gordon page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

MotoLyrics.com | Lyrics, music videos, artist biographies, releases and more.