I get along without you very well, of course I do
Except when soft rains fall
And drip from leaves then I recall
The thrill of being sheltered in your arms, of course I do

But I get along without you very well I've forgotten you just like I said I would, of course, I have Except to hear your name or someone's laugh that is the same
I've forgotten you just like I should

What a guy, what a fool am I
To think my aching heart could kid the moon
What's in store should I fall once more
No, no, no, no, no it's best that I stick to my tune

I said I get along without you very well, of course, I do Except perhaps in spring but I should never think of spring
For that would surely break my heart in two
What's in store should I fall once more
No, it's best that I stick to my tune

I get along without you very well, of course, I do
Except perhaps in spring
But then I should never ever think of spring
For that would surely break my heart in two
