Been a while since you and I spoken
But you have to know
All the reasons I felt that need to let you go
Oooh, I gave you everything but what I never felt Like you were there for me
Started when you were leavin town like every week
I knew that you were seeing someone sexually
How could you lie to me?
It hurts inside of me, there's no denying

That I had to go and get out of this
You were bad for my life
It wasn't easy you know, and I was scared
But I had to do what's right
