

A Fall To Break "The Fight"

Strong feeling getting stronger,
And I'm too weak to face this fight,
As I lie awake this sleepless night,
Tick tock goes the minutes finger,
Click clack of the loaded gun,
Haunted down by my demons as I try to run,

Hold on to your life,
There's so much for you to give this time around,
I know you don't feel right,
But there's a reason for it all,
And you just have to face this fight.

Two linked murders getting closer,
But it's all in my mind,
Is it fate only wanting closure?
For all my wasted time,
Now I am digging deeper,

Inside so I can find,
A way to face my demon side,

Hold on to your life,
There's so much for you to give this time around,
I know you don't feel right,
But there's a reason for it all,
And you just have to face this fight.

Late at night when you're sick and sleeping,
You never know what just might come to mind,
Just when life gives you happy feelings,
These demons might come and pick a fight,

Hold on to your life,
There's so much for you to give this time around,
I know you don't feel right,
But there's a reason for it all,
And you just have to face this fight.
