Said I'll walk you over
To the back of the store
You're gonna meet the neighbour
The one you wanna ignore

You say it's just for social
A little bit of talk
I know I hate to say it
You're up to so much more

That's an act of habit
I don't wanna believe

Find yourself a boyfriend
With a lucky charm
Lost yourself in a new love
Forget who you are

But no love can protect you
From the marks on your arms
You don't need approval
To see yourself in the dark

That's an act of habit
I don't wanna believe
Such a comedy
Don't know what you need

That's an act of habit
I don't wanna believe
Such a comedy
Don't know what you need
