Rising under the lightning and thunder
The shadow is moving towards me eternally

Can't help but pull me under
Broken shell in a full moon summer
Can't help but pull me under the rain

The pale face is frozen the colours are chosen
She stands still her arms stretched
Her hands meet a difference

Can't help but pull me under
Broken shell in a full moon summer
Can't help but pull me under the rain

She cradles the light and suckles the wind
Her melody cries, her lullaby sings, her lullaby sings

Can't help but pull me under
Broken shell in a full moon summer
Can't help but pull me under the rain
