"Ghost in the City"

I spend all day just keeping warm
The TV's on, but no one's home
I wait alone all afternoon and watch the sun go round the moon
There's just no way that I can be
Like those people crowded on the city streets
I see them staring back at me

But there's just no way that I can be
Living like a ghost in my own city

I'll walk the streets with both eyes closed
So I don't see a single soul
But I can hear them calling me behind my back on every street
There's just no way that I can be
Like those people crowded on the city streets
I see them staring back at me

But there's just no way that I can be
Living like a ghost in my own city

There's just no way that I can be
Like those people crowded on the city streets
I see them staring back at me

But there's just no way that I can be
Living like a ghost in my own city
