Old and lonely in an open heart,
Draw the curtain, stop the world before it starts.
Yeah.

Call me over,
Ask me over,
It's not hard,
And I'll come running,
I'll come screaming like a child.

Say what you want me to see,
There's no reaction to me,
There's no spark.
When everybody fits in,
You're all addicted again.
And you're all just a part of the scene,
And you're always the last one to leave.
So, say it loud,
And keep it clean,
'Cause you're all just a part of the scene.

Say what you want me to see,
There's no reaction to me.
And you're all just a part of the scene,
And you're always the last one to leave.
So, say it loud,
And keep it clean,
And you're all just a part of the scene.
