

Nine Days "Still Here"

You hold tight to your tomorrow
Cuz there's no one here except yourself
I did not come to beg or borrow
Were you expecting someone else

And I will be there to soften your fall
And I will be there for the good of it all
I will not let you feel you've wasted all your time
And every day we have is one more day that you'll be mine
If my life is a flight and a crash in the sea
I'm still here but I can not speak the words

They say the rain will always follow
When you're lost inside yourself
The truth is not so easily swallowed
When you left me for someone else

And I will be there to soften your fall

And I will be there in the thick of it all
I will not let you feel you've wasted all your time
And every day we had was one more day that you were
mine
If my life is a flight and a crash in the sea
I'm still here

Born with a heart defect
I am a father's son
One day I will be here
The next day I'll be gone
So could I steal a moment of your time
A dreamer's eyes are always open wide

I will not let you feel you've wasted all your time
And every day we have is one more day that you'll be
mine
If my life is a flight and a crash in the sea
I'm still here

I'm still here
