To watch the leaves grow on the trees with you
Is out of question
I walk into this summer all alone
The usual session

You feel your instinct then you act
But was it your intention?
To leave me down and broken
Now, you've ended our ascension, yeah

I still can feel the beach sand in my shoes
Remember when?
We talked along the ocean's song
'Til blue from black fade in

But that was then I learned to live
Without you far within
I ask you why you're back to try
To let me lose again?

You brought me here
You wet my taste
You disappear without a trace
It wasn't me who made the call

'Cause now I wanna be
Where you sleep, where you laugh
Where you breathe and I hate to say
Still I swear, brown your eyes, gone away

Should I feel some closure
I deserve if that at least
And would you be so kind to show
Reasons for your release

You woke me up from a distant past
I left behind complete
The message that you sent that night
Now, falls to bittersweet

Or was it me?
My honesty

You fail to show, I never know
It wasn't me who made the call

'Cause now I wanna be
Where you sleep, where you laugh
Where you breathe and I hate to say
Still I swear, brown your eyes and gone away

Was it me?
My honesty
You fail to show I never know

You brought me here
You wet my taste
You disappear without a trace

Did you think I'd ever lead you wrong?
Just know I'll save all of our moments
That we are

And still I wanna be
Where you sleep, where you laugh
Where you breathe and I hate to say
Still I swear, brown your eyes and gone away

Now I wanna be
(Someday you'll wish you never)
Where you sleep
(Someday you'll wish you never)

Where you laugh
(Someday you'll wish you never)
Where you breathe
(Someday you'll wish you never)

And I hate to say
(Someday you'll wish you never)
Still I swear
(Someday you'll wish you never)

Brown your eyes
(Someday you'll wish you never)
Gone away
(Someday you'll wish you never)

You took it all the way
You took it all away
