

Nine Days

"Where You Going Now?"

Visit "Where You Going Now?" on MotoLyrics.com

Where you going now that you ain't been before?
The same worn out roads behind the same old doors
I could wait here for you for a thousand years or more
But I probably won't look all that good then so why won't you just come around now
I've got questions deeper than you want to go
There's no need to argue or put up all this show
And if I were a king there'd be dust upon my throne
But I can't even reach the doorway to get out on my own
Oh, I could wait for an hour
Oh, I could wait for a day
Oh, when you get where you're going take a good look around and you'll see where you are today
I've got questions deeper than you want to go
There's no need to argue or put up all this show
I might know the words to sing to you a song
But I can't reason my convictions knowing something's wrong
Something's wrong
Where you going now that you ain't been before?
The same worn out roads behind the same old doors
I could wait here for you for a thousand years or more Ah, but I'm probably going to look like * right around then so why won't you just come around now Come around now
Oh, we could sit here forever
Oh, we could waist all our time
Oh, when we get where we're going take a good look around and we'll see
And we'll see

Visit Nine Days page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.