Turn to be alone
Find the height to change your view
And if I held the world, would I have the key
And if I dare to dream, will I see the light
Yesterday I saw a lady needing help
The only look was someone evil laughing on their way
Tonight I'll be the one to lead the way
A troubled life will be the distant memory

Find a way to free the chain
To break away to break away
To find the time to heal the pain
To break away to break away
And if I choose a word to say
To break away to break away
Will I turn the night to day
To breakaway

Walking by a funeral on the road
Everybody's crying out of love
Little do they know, she's in a better place
Reach to the dark, the hand on the light
And nothing's there..
Truth verses light, escape the mind, and yearn to be free.

Find a way to free the chain
To break away to break away
To find the time to heal the pain
To break away to break away
And if I choose a word to say
To break away to break away
Will I turn the night to day
To breakaway

Circular
We're all
Circular
Step outside the circle and fly.

Find a way to free the chain

To break away to break away
To find the time to heal the pain
To break away to break away
And if I choose a word to say
To break away to break away
Will I turn the night to day
To breakaway

Find a way to free the chain
To break away to break away
To find the time to heal the pain
To break away to break away
And if I choose a word to say
To break away to break away
Will I turn the night to day
To breakaway
