Lost like a breath in the wind this world has now become
Once upon a time was a vision hand in hand that now is gone
Will the waking world
Remove this veil of lies
And who was the one
Who forged this place in time

Put out the fire,
That's human desire
That's human desire
Put out the fire,
That's human desire
That's human desire

Mist ridden hills are now filled with many songs and rhyme
At the foot of my grave wicked children dance and cry
They walk alone
In the future lies,
Just a man to change the tide
It's in you to decide
Just when to find this place I'm calling out

Put out the fire,
That's human desire
That's human desire
Put out the fire,
That's human desire
That's human desire

Put out the fire,
That's human desire
That's human desire
Put out the fire,
That's human desire
That's human desire

In the future lies,
Just a man to change the tide

It's in you to decide
Just when to find this place I'm calling out
