The purest eyes and the strongest hands
I love the ground, baby, where you stand
And my will to fight, it all disappears
Now that you're here

You're everything I've been thirsty for
You're everything that I can't afford
Can't leave you now
I'd be trembling counting every tear
Now that you're here
Ohhh, now that you're here

Feels like this chemistry might be the end of me
If love's my enemy, don't set me free
Now that you're here, there's no one else for me
Stuck on your energy, like where it's taking me
If love's my enemy, don't set me free
Now that you're here, there's no one else for me
Now that you're here

I never thought I'd feel so divine
You're like poetry, desire justified
You're a legend now that will never die,
Now that you're here

Almost torture now, this insanity
As you captivate every inch of me
You're taking me so far away
When you're pulling me near
Now that you're here
Ohhh, now that you're here

Feels like this chemistry might be the end of me
If love's my enemy, don't set me free
Now that you're here, there's no one else for me
Stuck on your energy, like where it's taking me
If love's my enemy, don't set me free
Now that you're here, there's no one else for me
Now that you're here

Baby, don't leave me alone

Just let me feel this over and over
Pull me in closer and closer
'Cause baby now that you're here

Feels like this chemistry might be the end of me
If love's my enemy, don't set me free
Now that you're here, there's no one else for me
Stuck on your energy, like where it's taking me
If love's my enemy, don't set me free
Now that you're here, there's no one else for me

Now that you're here
Now that you're here
