

Jerry Leger

"Conversation With The Blues"

Visit "Conversation With The Blues" on MotoLyrics.com

Did you see the man chasing down the road Looking for a job in a credibility role?
Screaming out what God has done for his land A goal in his head and a knife in his hand

Conversation with the blues
In a long distance missionary room

He came from a world where the feelings grow About a reality that was never shown Hatred in words for an evolving ring Devilish laughs and revolving scenes Different views from different lands Bottled up opinions in violent strands As he grew taller the book was lent A life in isolation came and went

Conversation with the blues
In a long distance missionary room
Conversation with the blues

In a long distance missionary room

I know he means Much more than what we see
But it's time to kill the dream
That all the world will agree

Made it to the end of the warning run
To a crowd of proud men and five perched guns Down on his knees he pounded his knife Like the almighty sword in the forgiving light Spotlight on him like a star in his time Dividing from us and kissing goodbye He died in a suit and a Stetson hat The world was asleep by the time he had A conversation with the blues...

....In a long distance missionary room Conversation with the blues In a long distance missionary room Conversation with the blues In a long distance missionary room

Visit Jerry Leger page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

