Daydreamer, I can hear you callin'
Through the crazy haze of doubt in your head Losin' faith, watchin' angels fallin'
Free fallin' though what's true what's said

Can't explain the pain I'm feelin' hungry for a sense of heallin'
Then my spirit whispers when push comes to shove
Let the twisted past unravel, find another road to travel
Now is the moment, trust in the mercy of Love

These days all I do is wonder
"Is it worth the risk to dream after all?"
Shades of grey paint the skies were under And change the way we read the lines on the wall

Can't explain the pain I'm feelin' hungry for a sense of
heallin'
Then my spirit whispers when push comes to shove
You can make your hope burn brighter
Tell you heart to hold on tighter
Now is the moment, trust in the mercy of Love

When the night is dark as thunder and the stars have turned to sand
When I'm tryin' to believe in tomorrow and I don't think I can
When I'm lost deep in my shadow, I reach out for your hand

Can't explain the pain I'm feelin' hungry for a sense of
heallin'
Then my spirit whispers when push comes to shove
You can ease the pain I'm feelin' To give me a sense of feelin'
Now is the moment, trust in the mercy of Love
The mercy of Love, the mercy of Love, the mercy of Love
