Got some books but I got no brain, I said I try my heart
it's far too vain
Got my house, but I lost my home, I said without you
I'm all alone
Got my bed, but I can't sleep, because your love I just can't keep Got a license, but I got no car, I said without you I won't get far
I got a phone but you don't talk just what to say, forget it all
I got burned and lost my pride, I said without you right
by my side
Got a job, but I make no pay I said it doesn't matter anyway
Got no girl to spend it on I said without you my love won't go.

You took my love and then you threw it through the door
But for some reason I keep coming back for more You said you'd always love me, love me, love me.
Those words you said they keep ringing in my head Revolving round and a bringing me down I can't replace the memory of you love, I love you.
Got some books but I got no brain, I said I try my heart it's far too late
Got my house, but I lost my home, I said without you
I'm all alone
Got my bed, but I can't sleep, because your love I just can't keep
get far
I got a phone but you don't talk just what to say, forget
it all
I got burned and lost my pride, I said without you right
by my side
Got a job, but I make no pay I said it doesn't matter
Got no girl to spend it on I said without you my love
won't go.

Without you, without you, my love goes on, without you, Without you, without you, my love goes on
