Can you see the light I see?
I'm not sure if it's just me Well dying to myself and finding truth Everything I am, I am in you

Finding light in a dark world
brings me inspiration
Knowing that there is so much more keeps me from desperation

Life isn't always what it seems And time is never there for me Contentment and complacency
Oh, are not words you can use to describe me

Finding light in a dark world
brings me inspiration
Knowing that there is so much more
keeps me from desperation

Finding light in this dark world
brings me inspiration
Knowing that there is so much more
keeps me from desperation

I said finding light in this dark world
brings me inspiration
Knowing that there is so much more
keeps me from desperation
