Go to sleep my little one
Though you're weak, I am strong
When I wake, I'll thank God for the day
But if I don't, I'll tell him to his face

Thank you, thank you, thank you
Thank you, thank you, thank you

Life was in no way mistake free
I sure expected so much more from me
I can say I tried to make the most of the moments I was blessed to host

Thank you, thank you, thank you
Thank you, thank you, thank you
Thank you, thank you, thank you

Oh, give me one more day to love the life in one more way
I know there is so much more love to give
One more emotion to feel

Simple things can slip my mind
Forgetting gifts losing track of time
Don't let it get away from me
