It's time to pack up all the dreams and walk away
No matter what our hearts might say Now we know we're at the end of a love so it's foolish to pretend why try We cried clinging to each other tenderly we were the best that we could be Through the sweet and gentle years and now after all these tears we cried Love knows we tried
Love knows we tried we gave it all we had and more Love knows we tried we've got the memory and someday we may see Goodbye doesn't mean we really didn't try so you can hold your head up high And as I walk away from you knowing well we did all that we could do inside
Love knows we tried
Oh love knows we tried...
Love knows we tried love knows we tried
