You're the sunshine that warms my heart each day You're the rainbow when gray clouds roll away You're the melody for the words that my heart's been tryin' to think of You're that missing piece of puzzle that it takes to put together love You're the paint on the canvas where an artist spilled his dream
You're something to believe in an answer prayer for me You're my guiding angel sent from heaven above You're that missing piece of puzzle that it takes to put together love
You're that missing piece of puzzle that it takes to make my life complete You're something to remember when I'm down and need to get back on my feet You're that missing piece of puzzle that it takes to put together love
You're that missing piece of puzzle that it takes to put together love
