If we lost all we had would I walk your rocky road or take a different path Would I sell my pride for you If you ask me to walk the streets you know just what I'd do Would your child have a home if it should be born of love other than our own Would I still stand by you Knowing you've loved someone else you know just what I'd do
If my love for you meant giving up my life would I lay it down for you
And if you were blind would I give you my sight
You know exactly what I'd do if you ask me to Would I live with the scar that you carry in your heart from another woman's war Would I lend you wounds for you
If I knew you needed me you know just what I'd do
