same old shit, just another day
running from today but it's keeping me awake
I try to run away, could you wake me from a dream?
and I know in my life that I made mistakes, ain't nobody perfect, my intentions weren't great
I just need to be awake,
could you wake me from a dream?

I guess I'll sit back and watch it all fade away watch the sun set and just say "goodbye today" I can't wake up cause I'm caught up in the moment I try to fight it off, but it's harder to control it a part of me is heated, but a part of me is frozen no need to pay attention when you hardly seem to focus now it seems you're hopeless, the little faith you had you wish you could take it back and you could change the past
I'm caught up in a dream, could somebody wake me up?
cause I be giving it my all, right now it ain't enough welcome to my world, where you're trapped and can't escape
you're trying to maintain while I'm trying to stay awake

running from today but it's keeping me awake
I try to run away, could you wake me from a dream?
and I know in my life that I made mistakes,
ain't nobody perfect, my intentions weren't great
I just need to be awake,
could you wake me from a dream?

I try to run away, but I'm running out of road when that something doesn't change then that something's got to go I wake up feeling cold, and I'm thinking of your face memories take up space and easily they get replaced and when I fall asleep, I see the fear in your eyes you putting up a front for the tears you disguise I still know you miss me, you felt it when you kissed me you gon' walk away and just give up all our history?

I'm yelling at the walls saying "get your shit and go" but you already gone, no one's even home I'm talking to myself, going crazy in my mind and I wake up here tonight and see you laying by my side

running from today but it's keeping me awake
I try to run away, could you wake me from a dream?
and I know in my life that I made mistakes,
ain't nobody perfect, my intentions weren't great
I just need to be awake,
could you wake me from a dream?

cause I'm caught up in a dream,
could somebody wake me up?
I be giving it my all, right now it ain't enough
could you wake me from a dream?

cause I'm caught up in a dream,
could somebody wake me up?
I be giving it my all, it ain't enough
could you wake me from a dream?

running from today but it's keeping me awake
I try to run away, could you wake me from a dream?
and I know in my life that I made mistakes,
ain't nobody perfect, my intentions weren't great
I just need to be awake,
could you wake me from a dream?

running from today but it's keeping me awake
I try to run away, could you wake me from a dream?
and I know in my life that I made mistakes,
ain't nobody perfect, my intentions weren't great
I just need to be awake,
could you wake me from a dream?
