Yeah, Uh
yeah, look, uh
We weren't friends, but I saw you everyday Played ball a couple times, but you were just another face
I would see you in the halls
We would go our separate ways
I never understood the saying "now he's in a better place"
Look, honestly you seem to be living nice
Popular jock type who would always give advice
The ladies man on campus women called you Mr. Right Never even said a word to each other we had different lives
Look, I was gripping mic's, he was gripping basketballs Even did well in school every test you passed 'em all Running for president too
Had your face on half the walls
Popularity through the roof, you seemed to have it all Look, I guess it's true
Me and you were polar opposites
Never gave a shit about school thats just preposterous
You on the other hand probably coulda' got a scholarship
Everything happens for a reason but boy I'm not convinced

I'm alive but I'm barely breathing
Whats the reason
Whats the reason
I was up and now I'm down
I'm all cried out
I'm alive but I'm barely breathing
Whats the reason
Whats the reason
I was up and now I'm down
I'm all cried out

No date, didn't go to homecoming
We stayed at home puffing
Blow with ya homies cussin

Unaware of something that was about to happen
So you kept pre-gaming and kept sipping on captain Like living life laughing in the driveway somewhere backed in
You hopped in the whip, with the music loud blasting
And I bet that y'all were having fun
Cause you didn't realize
You were speeding 20 over and ignoring all the street signs
Just some teens who were living life perfect
In the car swerving with a couple joints burning Driving past curfew so the kids were getting nervous Breaking all the rules doing things that wasn't worth it It's kinda sad all you made was one mistake
But I guess thats all it takes To keep everyone awake
You were only 17 you were only just my age Flipped to the news that night and saw your car in the lake
Like

I'm alive but I'm barely breathing
Whats the reason
Whats the reason
I was up and now I'm down
I'm all cried out
I'm alive but I'm barely breathing
Whats the reason
Whats the reason
I was up and now I'm down
I'm all cried out
