One time, for those who hold me down,
If you didn't know me then, bet you know me now Told my parents that I rap they like holy cow They aint support at first, but now they oh so proud Ah, yeah, they oh so proud Accomplishing my goals, still no cap and gown
I always got a smile, never see me with a frown
And I never sell out that's a promise and a vow Hey, and I did it on my own time Never had a helping hand, nobody co sign Notice every rapper talk about how they so fly
But that's what sells and I don't even know why God tell me when all the passion died God tell me is it worth the sacrifice God tell me is there an after life And tell me why these hoes blowin up who ain't half as nice That sounded egotistic, but everybody is a little narcissistic
All I'm saying is baby check the statistics Numbers don't lie and life is a privilege

The music died and I'm here to revive it
Or at least give it a try
I close both my eyelids, and dream that I'm flying,
to the fullest living my life
The music died and I'm here to revive it
Or at least give it a try
I close both my eyelids, and dream that I'm flying,
to the fullest living my life

care to take a shot, homie it won't kill me Chances are that you people really feel me
You might ... but you never know the real me Keep on judging me homie, realtalk, just feel free But just know I get more money than you Your girl loves, but she say that I'm more funny than you I got a buzz like a bee, get more honeys than you and if you heard that I keep it 100 it's true Yeah, cause I'm as real as it gets, I'm just living my life but yall just dealing with stress got my eyes on success and I ain't never plan on blinkin titanic dreams are big but I ain't sinking I bringing music to life, I earned all that I own aint even sharing a slice.

With the people who doubted me, lil homie take a hike but just know it ain't a food brand, best believe the hype?
hey, One time for the best fans, you might disagree but homie they're the best fans Yeah, you heard right, boy i said the best fans Hop aboard, go with the flow and just best plans

The music died and I'm here to revive it
Or at least give it a try
I close both my eyelids, and dream that I'm flying,
to the fullest living my life
The music died and I'm here to revive it
Or at least give it a try
I close both my eyelids, and dream that I'm flying,
to the fullest living my life
