Whats Up
Yeah
Rez

Yo, Yo, Yo
Tires in rotation, but i got no destination The dollar and the dream loves determination but its the motivation
I do it for my family, my father told me that you always need a plan b But I can't see anything but success i'm driven, but its in my vision I still see you with astigmatism You should listen to everything that i'm spittin' my soul is imprisoned in every single thing that I've written Money ain't everything it don't matter what type of car you in, it ain't enough to pay the bills thats why my parents always arguing Music over everything its simple fractions, my biggest fans used to be the ones laughin' Teachers call attendance but never question my absence, i'm flyin' cross the country to shoot a vid in Manhattan Ya'll don't understand me like i'm speakin' with an accent, no plan b my only option is rappin'

[Chorus]

I say ooh child yeah its gonna get better
I'm waiting for the sun I get through the stormy weather
I say ooh child yeah its gonna get better
I'm waiting for the sun I get through the stormy weather

I say ooh child life's not that bad
ooh child life's not that sad
First few rays that come out the sun, Let the good times roll, lets have some fun

You can't be sad while listenin' to this track, so kick back roll a joint, grab a six pack And if you feelin' kinda stressed I can fix that I said if you feelin' kinda stressed I can fix that Uhh, I'm spittin' wisdom through this poetry, head on my desk most people never used to notice me

Then I started rapping now everybody know its me, I be writing lyrics since the motha fuckin overie Nah i'm just kidding, but life could be hard if you just a little different Uhh, Let me get specifics they said i couldn't do it, not because of my talent but because i'm white and jewish man thats just foolish so much ignorance, and real talk i'm gettin' fuckin' sick of it Uhh, I guess they in denial, that one day im about to go viral

[Chorus]

I say ooh child yeah its gonna get better
I'm waiting for the sun I get through the stormy weather
I say ooh child yeah its gonna get better
I'm waiting for the sun I get through the stormy weather
I say ooh child life's not that bad
ooh child life's not that sad
First few rays that come out the sun, Let the good times
roll, lets have some fun
