hey hey
Its a walk to remember yeah haha feeling good

So I keep my head high Cause I know I'll see better days People gon' always talk shit but I just let 'em hate They used to get the best of me but that shit gonna end today
And why you tryin to be a fire man in the 2nd grade Shit, I wanted to be an artist Skin color was something I disregarded Real shit that judgmental shit is retarded Cause imma come the hardest of all colors regardless Pardon, pardon pardon the interuption This your goodnight story homie hope you tucked in Without music I won't be able to function It's the reason why in almost every class I'm fucking shit, but that ain't something that I'm bragging 'bout Couple friends rolling weed yeah we pass around A couple J's getting high so we laughing now Then a couple more go around now we passing out Uh, I just wanna die happy I was never the type of kid who was flashy Hardly driven I used to be in the back seat My good friends and music is all I need if you ask me Uh, but you can save that for the interview
I ain't content with ... but for now I guess it will do I'm sick of waiting in chickens who get impatient I'm sick of you growing up hella fast so I've been missing you Uh, And I'm talking about my adolescence Nowadays half these whack rappers lack a message On my way to the top and I won't ask directions Cause Imma make it or die trying and a ash I rest in uh, and you can put that on my family Never had something handed to me Mama done never pampered me A year ago man this isn't where I planned to be I did it on my own mother fucker I just can't believe

Where I'm at and where I plan to be going Work hard now and later on I'll be coasting Nah fuck it, I'll never take a damn break For my health and my fans sake
No other options
Homie this my last chance Me blowing up big homie thats a fat chance Grind hard cuz time is ticking away
But I guarantee I die with a big grin on my face Ah yeah and this a walk to remember hey and you can fucking guarantee that yeah
and you can fucking guarantee that hey hey yeah
And this a walk to remember
And it's a walk to remember haha let that beat ride though it feel too good up in here haha
yeah
haha, uh uh
