Forget what I said
Because I sharpened my tongue
To throw insults your way
Even when I was wrong
All the energy saved
When the fighting has ceased
All the things we could do
Well, you'd never believe
I was hanging too much
And speaking in tongues
The desperate dance home
Was never too fun
So forgive what I said
Because I complicate things
Any idiots knows that simplicity wins
But I
I'll take my chances
With you
I'll take my chances
With you
