I'm so sick and tired
Of making excuses
For why things are how they are

I know I'm the reason
But I hope you're not thinking
That I can't turn this boat around

Now in every love story
There's moments of glory
And times when my try just won't do

You lost all your trust
Now you don't expect much
From me but I'm gonna prove this to you
Oh that I'm gonna come through for you

Lalalalalalalalalala

Take me on it's just a song
And try to believe in this something
Something worth holding on to

I know you waited so long
But try to believe in this something
Cause it wouldn't mean much without you
And I promise someday I'll come through

Steve Perry once said ???
It ain't supposed to be
After all of these years and a river of tears
You say you have sacrificed, spending years of your life
Waiting on promises and maybes

It couldnt be more true
Time to give some to me

Lalalalalalalalalala

Take me on it's just a song
And try to believe in this something
Something worth holding on to

I know you waited so long
But try to believe in this something
Cause it wouldn't mean much without you
And I promise someday I'll come through

Lalalalalalalalala (x2)

Take me on it's just a song
And try to believe in this something
Something worth holding on to

I know you waited so long
But try to believe in this something
Cause it wouldn't mean much without you

Your the moon and the sun and i will be the one you coming running to
