Take a walk down memory lane
And see where the path might lead you
Familiar things do change
In our minds they stay the same

I can hear the voice of my mama
Calling out her children's names
She says, "Come on in, it's dinner time"
Let me help my babies fix their plates

We all have memories, we should not forget
Times that become part of our lives
A person so heartfelt when I think of you history
I get sentimental when I think of you, woman
I get sentimental

You were holding hands
Walking through the park
It seems like yesterday
It felt so good to be in love
But our age got in the way

I still feel the warmth of your arms
A big kiss on my face
When I reminisce, I think of this
'Cause what I miss is you

We all have memories, we should not forget
Times that become part of our lives
A person so heartfelt when I think of you history
I get sentimental when I think of you, woman
I get sentimental

Wonderful, that's what you are
Unforgettable, my heart wont let me so
Lovable, so lovable, baby
I get emotional when I think of your love

So sentimental, baby
You're unforgettable woman
When you touch my life
Ooh, you're wonderful

So lovable, so lovable, baby
So lovable baby

Sentimental parts of moments
Captured in our mind as we grow up
Things in life do change for us
But memories stay the say

Love once in our lives are a part of Never take for granted someone
Spend some time while they're around
Spend some time share sentimental

We all have memories, we should not forget
Times that become part of our lives
A person so heartfelt when I think of you history
I get sentimental when I think of you, woman
I get sentimental
