For a moment in my mind
I thought I'd be him and you would be with me
And for that instant in time
I thought it'd be us, I thought it would be we
And all though you push me away
My heart beats the same song
The hurts left you in a cold state
Baby you've been worn
Cause I could be your healer
I could be your king
I could be your dealer
I'm the remedy
Let's push through the storm, let's push through the storm
I could be your shield I'll, impact all the pain, in the line of fire, marching till you're safe
Let's push through the storm, let's push through the storm
Happily never after, happily, happily never after Happily never after, happily, happily never after.
