The human mind is desperate for a guiding hand,
so deities are born.
The weight of life and death are just too much for us,
so religious books are penned.

In Christ they found a white right,
then raped him of his word.
The word "God" removes our guilt now
to conquer, blame, and burn.

The intolerance inherent in theology
will end this world one day.

The fundamentalists will serve their gods,
fusion bombs will detonate.

In Christ they found a white right,
then raped him of his word.
The word "God" removes our guilt now
to conquer, blame, and burn.
With martyrs promised paradise
And seventy-two virgins
Western dominance expands
until these books bring this world to an end.

I would not let it form. But I would watch it die.
