your narrow road feeds fear,
it strangles my thoughts, fraying me to rags,
as i crack out, my words.

i can feel,
i can feel,
i feel my throat closing round,
i feel.

your heart is withering, as your reach is from my grasp, your silhouette I'd lie for,
I stumble, to hold.

that flicker in the distance,
that bind I have lost,
I stumble, to hold,

still I

feel,
i can feel,
i can feel my throat closing round,
i feel.

climbing closer with every hour, see the search etched in my eyes.
I find my path, is covered now, but I cant leave till I'm breaking out.

all of the time,
we could get there right,
now I can not hide,
cause it's in my eyes,
and I'll break it again,
yeah I'll break it again.
