careless and free now fully aware, we dodge and weave to find an end, strive to avoid the glaring truth, stepping faint.

we will hold the light,
over our heads,
we will turn this fight,
into a friend.

voices no longer whisper, howling on they tear like ice, rushed through an age in a instant, we cannot hide.

we will hold the light,
over our heads,

we will turn this fight,
into our friend

we will find a new way,
wah ahh oh,
yeah we will find a new way,
wah ahh oh.

over our heads,
we will turn this fight,
into our friend,

we will find a new way,
wah ahh oh,
yeah we will find a new way,
wah ahh oh.
