push start revolve in the door way pass go what's that you say look in the mirror you can't look away get stuck with yourself in a new skin get lost drown in a new sin and in the morning you can't say where you've been promises promises promises wahat did you promise

you promised yourself

time has been passing while you have been laughing and time is not on your side promises promises promises promises

you promised yourself
