"Crocodile Tears"

Gave you my bed to lie on
You lied all the time
Can't believe I gave you my shoulder to cry on
You cried even more
Crocodile tears on the floor , where I left you
To sort out your life
Wasted all my patients and virtue
I'll leave you to lie beside
Those crocodile tears on the floor

Why don't you cry me a river
And I'll sail away
Look at me now as I leave you to hold on
To your selfish ways

And crocodile tears on the floor, where I left you
To sort out your life
Doesn't matter how much I tried to Forgive and forget I can't

You were all I wanted

You shone through, true colours
And blinded everything in sight
Save your lies for another, fool like me
And he can leave you beside
Those crocodile tears on the floor.

You never had me, and yet you'll never let me go
You never had me, and yet you'll never let me go

You shone through, true colours
And blinded everything in sight
Save your lies for another, fool like me
And he can leave you beside
Those crocodile tears on the floor.
Crocodile tears on the floor.

Your crocodile x8
