I missed my flight out of Belfast city
It was late but I didn't care
I caught your eye you were oh so pretty
Couldn't help but stop and stare

I nearly died when you waved me over
Then we talked until the morning light
You fell asleep with your head on my shoulder
I'm so glad that I missed that flight

It was fate that brought us together
Now it's tearing us apart
Your flights been called
Now your boarding with my heart

I took your bags and I brought them with me
To the gate where you had to board
You turned your head as I leaned to kiss you
Heart sank as your plane it soared
I've got a feeling that it's not for ever
And I'm sure that I'll meet you again

I can't deny that we should be together
And I'm hoping that you feel the same

It was fate that brought us together
Now it's tearing us apart
Your flights been called
Now your boarding with my heart

Please come back cause I'm falling to pieces
I know it's strange I don't even know you
Please come back cause I'm falling to pieces
It's even stranger that you feel the same way too
Please come back cause I'm falling to pieces
I know It's strange I dont even know you

It was fate that brought us together
Now it's tearing us apart
Your flights been called
Now your boarding with my heart

Please come back cause I'm falling to pieces x4
