You might know, but if you don't then it's alright
You have a place inside
And you know that it's good in your life
When your heart feels right

I don't know how I found you now
But I know this much is true
That above it all the sun shines
So much brighter when I'm with you

You found me here when I was lost and looking down
And turned it all around
With your light that could break through the dark
With a single spark

I don't know how I found you now
But I know this much is true
That above it all the sun shines
So much brighter when I'm with you
