Only when you say I love you and i need you in my life and did the other men that were telling each other bye.
you're hanging up the phone and disconnecting youre line
so now im on my own
just looking up at the sky cant really understand how your moving on because so many years me and you we got along you were my everything
the one that always kept me strong.
thats why its hard
for me to believe that you're really gone sometimes i sit here wondering if you miss me like i miss you.
We had some plans in this life like tell each other i do.
seems like all we did was break our heart in two.
it's so hard cuz from the start it was me and you. now i hear you are moving on and never looking back whatever me and you had we left in the past.
but baby girl all i can say is soon youll understand.
what goes around comes around just remember that...

(Chorus)

I never thought that you turned out to be
The person who gives up and turns around and leaves you were my baby and my everything.
i never would have that we would be enemies.
sometimes i sit and wonder if you're listening if im praying into the sky are you missing me i heard you moved on like you were bound to do you forgot about me so i forgot about you...

it all seems worst when i mix love with alchohal
i met alotta girls but never did i fall but damn i fell for you cuz theres somethin that i thought i saw.

when i look into your eyes
i could have sworn i seen it all you broke my heart to pieces when you walked away cuz i never thought i lived to see the day.

that you would leave me and act like everthings okay
this was supposed to be forever till we hit the grave 2 o clock up in the morning im up thinking of us bumping homies and just missing your kisses and soft touch.

Everday that im awake damn im still drunk
i just picture you with somebody else falling in love thats exactly what you did girl you blew my mind.
only a couple months and you found another guy.
i just take another drink and i wonder why
but its alright dont come asking for another try...

(Chorus)

Now Im staring at the stars and thinking about you and wondering if everthing you told me was true.
a couple months ago i didnt know what i was gonna do and to tell you the truth id never thought id make it through
well mija take a flicka cuz im happy now and you just need to understand that you cant keep me down.
yea you might i have messed me up for alittle while.
because you took away alot but never took my style.
baby girl i hope you know im doing good and i am back when you see the CD you better reach for the cash so buy one for yourself and buy one for your man.
and bump this hit single like its your favorite jam.
dont come saying that you miss me and that you regret cuz the day you walked away i took a bigger step.
i overcame all the pain now my mind is set i forgot about you so dont you for get.

(Chorus x2)
