I waited all night long
Just to see your face
But you didn't show
Now I hate this place.
Never had the luck
To find a man so true

All I had was faith
To meet a man like you.
Give me back my love

All I want from you
Is to give me back my love forever.
I let it slip away
There was nothing I could do

Give me back my love again.

People learn to write

People learn to take.
All I learned in life.
Somehow it's all fake.
As a child I saw
What was going on

Tears were there each day
But tears could make me strong.
Give me back my love

I always wanted to know you
as a friend
Those little things that you told me

In the end.
Give me back my love
