

My Starving Lion "Revelation"

In the dust
From the fabric of this earth
You breath in me
I awoke
In the morning sun
Far away
So I search this foreign land

With broken hands and feet
I Walk across this stream
In search of what this means
But in this ice and snow
I think I finally know
My strength is here with you

Outside this empty tomb

On a hunt
for a beast of broken dreams
I look to you
In a husk of the empty world
It awaits

On a plain
Of unending pain and truth
I look to you
In a sky
With a million marks
I can see a trillion broken stars
